+ Intermediate: You regularly go mountain biking on blue runs, but if it becomes steep or rocky you pass the difficult sections on foot by pushing the mountain bike.

+ Advanced: You have a good understanding on the technical aspects and are comfortable on red runs (overhangs, steep passages, tree roots, pebbles, rocks etc). You rarely get off the bike and can anticipate what to do next using a lifted look.

+ Expert: You are comfortable on all black runs. You tackle technical sections with speed and commitment, plus jumps, manoeuvring the bike and crossings are easy. You choose the correct line on tracks and keep your speed up. You know how to do the 'bunny up' technique to avoid obstacles or get into a new position. You are comfortable with crossing techniques too.
